

News & Announcements

For Immediate Release

---

AIG ADVISOR GROUP HOSTS 2nd ANNUAL W3 CONFERENCE

Woman advisors get together to network, learn

CHICAGO, [June 16, 2008] -- AIG Advisors Group held its second ever 'Why Winning are Winning' conference July 13-15 at the Ritz-Carlton Chicago. The conference was attended by more than 100 women advisors from AIG Advisor Group's three broker dealers, AIG Financial Advisors, FSC and Royal Alliance.

Highlights from the two-day included keynote speaker Dr. James B. Mass – Ph.D., author of "Power Sleep: The Revolutionary Program That Prepares Your Mind of Peak Performance," Sonya Barnes, president of Harris & Barnes Image Consulting and more than 20 breakout sessions covering Women and Investing, Targeting Affluent Women and The New Retirementality for Women.

"It was a fabulous conference in so many ways," said AIGFA advisor Erwin Buck "All of the panel discussions were great. I attended The Top Producer Panel and it was terrific."

Plans are already underway for next year's AIG Advisor Group conference for women.

AIG Financial Advisors, Inc. (AIGFA) is one of the nation's largest independent broker-dealer organizations based on 2007 total revenues of more than $330 million, according to Financial Planning Magazine's 2008 Guide to Independent Broker-Dealers. Headquartered in Phoenix, AIGFA has 1900 affiliated independent financial advisors and 350 branch locations. AIGFA is a registered broker-dealer, an SEC-registered investment adviser, member FINRA and SIPC, and a member company of American International Group, Inc. (AIG).

oo-00-oo